

ONE CONTRACTOR PLEADS GUILTY; TWO FACE TRIAL

Dan B. Bodily, one of the three builders of new homes in the Hansen Tract in Centerville, entered a plea of guilty to operating as a contractor without a contractor's license when he appeared before Judge Allen G. Norris in Centerville Justice Court last Friday.

C. G. Shuman and L. M. Lewis, the other two developers of the tract, both facing the same charge as Bodily, entered pleas of not guilty.

Judge Norris set the time of trial for Shuman and Lewis for 2 p.m. Friday, July 11, and ordered Bodily to return at that time for sentence. Judge Norris also stated that Judge Manley Clark of Livermore will be here that day to conduct the trials and sentence. All three men are free on $500 bond each.

The three men are charged with violation of Section 7028 of the Business and Professional Code of California for "unlawfully engaging in the business and act in the capacity of a contractor without having first obtained a license from the Contractors' License Board."

According to Judge Norris the maximum fine for the offense calls for a fine of $500 or six months in jail or both.

All three complaints were signed by August F. Rahlves, state inspector for the contractors' license board, after an investigation had been instigated by a Citizens Committee composed of ten home owners in the new tract.

Lawrence George Jr., 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence George of the Alvino district, was critically injured last Friday while riding his bicycle on the highway near his home when he was struck by an automobile driven by Frederick Kellberg, Oakland.

He was rushed to Fairmont Hospital in the Dallas Paul ambulance and was later transferred to Merritt Hospital in Oakland for treatment. Injuries included a compound leg fracture, possible fracture of the skull, severe laceration on his face and hands and multiple bruises and abrasions.

Lawrence had just returned home for the summer after graduating from St. Joseph's Military Academy at Belmont.

Kellberg, driver of the machine that struck the lad, told highway patrol officers that he was unable to swerve the car in time to avoid the accident. He was not cited for the accident.

HUNTING DOGS' OWNER SOUGHT

Al Hoene, expressman at the Niles Southern Pacific depot, received a shipment early Wednesday morning that he is hoping can be delivered before many more hours or the expense to him is going to run rather high.

The shipment is a small wire crate which contains two hunting dogs sent from Poteau, Okla., on June 28 and addressed to Earl Goodman, general delivery, Niles.

The dogs arrived early Wednesday morning, tired, thirsty, and hungry, and Hoene immediately checked with the post office in an attempt to locate the owner. Clerks at the post office could be of no help as to where the man could be located.

When Hoene returned from his lunch hour he could no longer stand the woe of the pair of dogs and he treated them to two cans of dog food, which he puts it, "disappeared like a snowball in the sun."

2 TOWNSHIP MEN HURT AT SAN JOSE

Two Washington Township men, William Benbow, Irvington, and Joseph Frank Avilla, Newark, are in San Jose hospitals this week in serious condition as the result of two highway accidents in San Jose last week-end.

Avilla, 27, was riding his motorcycle on Oakland highway Saturday evening when he collided with an automobile driven by Frank Peixotto, Centerville. The impact drove the door handle of the automobile into Avilla's back and one of his hands was crushed so severely that it may be necessary to amputate, according to latest reports from the Community Service Hospital.

Benbow received major injuries about 6:30 a.m. Sunday when his machine skidded into an automobile driven by Frank Cancilla, San Jose.

PHILIPPINE INDEPENDENCE HISTORY TOLD

SUPERVISOR STANLEY LAUDS FILIPINOS

Editor's Note: Following is the address which was to have been delivered by County Supervisor Chester E. Stanley at the Independence Day Celebration at Alvarado today (Friday). Supervisor Stanley, however, underwent an operation at Livermore Monday, so The Register prints it in full for the benefit of the Filipino Community which is sponsoring the celebration.

By CHESTER E. STANLEY
County Supervisor

Turning back the pages of history to the year 1512 we find that Europe first heard of the Philippine Islands in that year through the reports of Magellan, the navigator. But we learn that even prior to that time there must have been explorers who visited there inasmuch as traces of Chinese culture dating back as far as the Tenth Century were found. The story is then one of oppression and wars between the Dutch, the Portuguese, the Chinese, and Spaniards. The rivalry between the Portuguese and Spanish for control of the Philippines ended with a victory for the latter group.

Natives of the Philippine Islands were given the short end of the deal by the Spaniards who set up government in the various islands headed by Spanish governors. While the natives felt that they were not being treated right, it remained for Jose Rizal to take the lead for freedom from Spanish rule. Rizal was captured and, after a so-called farcical trial, was executed by the Spaniards in 1896. So cruel were the Spaniards that attention of the outside world was

ADDITIONAL WATER PROMISED NILES CANYON DISTRICT

E. F. Glassbrook, manager of the local office of the Public Utilities Corporation, commenting on the water petition recently presented to the fire commission by residents of Niles Canyon, stated Wednesday that funds to install an additional water system to the area have been included in the budget for many months but the work has been unable to be carried out because of lack of materials.

"Our stockpile is exhausted and the pipe companies are distributing on a quota basis with shipments being made approximately six months to a year after the orders are placed," Glassbrook said.

"We plan to lay a four-inch water pipe up through Niles Canyon district and erect a 20,000 or 25,000-gallon reservoir on one of the hills above the district," he revealed. According to this plan the water would supplement the current supply and the overflow would be pumped into the tank for a reserve.

"We can promise no definite date for the completion of the work because it depends entirely upon when we receive the shipments of pipe now on order," he stated. "However, it is hoped that the new system can be installed and in operation before winter."

NEW DECOTO STORE OPENS SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Hidalgo announced this week that their new store, The Decoto Fountain and Variety, will hold its grand opening Saturday, July 5, in the new building located at the corner of Sixth and H streets in Decoto.

The popular young Decoto couple formerly operated the Junction Inn at Warm Springs but were forced to sell out when Manuel suffered a broken back in a highway accident. He has been slowly recuperating under doctors care since that time but once more feels able to resume his business activity and has erected an attractive new store in Decoto.

They will carry a full line of variety store items and notions with Mrs. Hidalgo to manage that department. Manuel will be in charge of the complete new fountain.

The grand opening will be held from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. with free gardenias to be given to the ladies and novelties for the kiddies. Present plans are for the store to be open six days a week from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. but Manuel stated this week that the fountain will be open for a short time each Sunday afternoon.

MUTUAL AID PLAN IS OUTLINED BY RURAL FIREMEN

The mutual aid plan of the Washington Township fire departments will be used as a pattern for establishing a similar system for all rural fire departments in Alameda county, it was decided at a meeting of the Alameda County Firemen's Association held at Irvington last Thursday evening.

Chief Fred Rogers of Centerville was named to act as chairman of the committee or organize the departments so that they will be able to lend increased assistance of the committee to organize basis.

Chief Clarence Crane of Niles, past president of the association, pointed out that the fire departments of Washington Township have been working the cooperative system for years and outlined the advantages of the plan.

Chief Joe Corey of Irvington was host at the meeting at which demonstrations of rural fire fighting were given. Edward L. Rose and Manuel Soito demonstrated the inhalator which was recently donated to the Irvington fire fighters by the Promenaders to be used throughout the township.

Lorin Bush of the Board of Fire Underwriters was the guest speaker of the evening and discussed the advantages of the mutual aid plan.

Seventy-five Alameda county firemen attended the meeting, which was presided over by Chief Lester Olivera of Ashland, president of the group.

MERCHANTS STUDY CRITICAL PROBLEMS OF MANAGEMENT

At last Friday night's meeting of the Washington Township Retail Management Conference, local merchants held a discussion of certain critical problems of retail personnel management under the guidance of Earl H. Kieselhorst, special supervisor of the Bureau of Business Education of the California State Department of Education.

Kieselhorst stressed the importance of manpower in expanding the volume and profits of a business. He emphasized the importance of each merchant making an appraisal of his working time to see whether or not the addition of personnel would relieve them of many supervisory and routine details in order to discharge more effectively the more important function of management, creative work, and planning.

"The customer is no longer the patient fellow he was during the war and immediately after," he said. "He now wants prompt service, and will go where he can get it. We need to develop an organization that will aggressively go after business instead of waiting for it to come in."

"Every merchant," he warned, "must consider what he can afford to spend in salaries and wages in relation to his sales and budget accordingly. As conditions grow increasingly competitive, the chances are the amount will have to be increased."

A discussion ensued on the problems of how to get, how to break in, how to train continuously, and how to build morale of qualified retail employees.

Kieselhorst pointed out how many merchants today are undergoing a brief ten-hour period of training in order to learn how to make a job break-down of all the tasks to be performed in their own operation as the first step in setting up an effective training program of their own. Warren Gravestock, adult school principal, stated that the local school will bring a business training specialist for the course next fall if there is sufficient interest among the merchants.

Friday night's meeting was the final in a series of four meetings offered to the merchants by the adult school of Washington Township.

MERCHANTS BEWARE

The Township Register wishes to advise merchants that we authorize no one not on our staff to represent us in advertising solicitation. Lately there have been several "advertising service" representatives canvassing this area. We do not regard purchase of these services at their rates quoted as sound advertising expenditure. Please consult us before signing for any such service.

REQUESTS MEETING; FAILS TO APPEAR

A meeting of the directors of the recent Mission San Jose Sesquicentennial called Monday evening at the request of Robert McIvor was attended by everyone but McIvor, who sent a telegram late that afternoon that he would be unable to be present because of other business engagements.

Hired as a promoter for the celebration, McIvor was released from his contract several weeks before the three-day celebration was staged. Last week he notified the group that he had some important matters to discuss with them and so the meeting was called.

At last night's meeting, although no figures were released for publication, it was obvious that little if any money would be available for the proposed erection of a youth center building in the community.

Directors announced that a complete financial report would be released for publication as soon as all accounts are settled.

FIRE COMMISSION FORWARDS CANYON WATER PETITION

The members of the Niles Fire Commission, at their meeting held Tuesday evening in the fire house, endorsed the petition prepared by residents of Niles Canyon and presented by Chief Clarence Crane and ordered it forwarded to the Public Utilities Corporation for its immediate attention.

The petition, which was signed by 40 residents of the Niles Canyon district, requested that the present water system be redesigned so that the normal volume and pressure would be increased, as well as increasing the volume of water available in case of an emergency.

Fire Chief Crane also reported to the commissioners that he had received shipment on some additional fire-fighting apparatus which includes 300 feet of 2½-inch hose, 200 feet of 1½-inch hose and a foam fire-fighting unit. The hose has now been added to the two trucks and the foam unit will be installed on one of the trucks and ready for use within the next two weeks, he revealed.

Members of the Niles Fire Commission include: Jack Alberg, chairman; E. E. Dias, secretary; and Leon Solon, Joe Gomes, and John McDonald.

SPORTSMEN FLY TO PILLSBURY LAKE

Seven Washington Township sportsmen "invaded" Pillsbury Lake by air early Tuesday morning and returned that evening with well stocked bags of mountain trout.

Two planes from Centerville Airport were utilized in the combined air-water tactics. Don Hubbard, superintendent of the airport here, piloted the five-passenger Cessna and his passengers included Bud Scribner, mechanic at the field; "Buster" Stinhliver, Centerville; Everett Mendenhall, Niles; and George Schader, Oakland. Edward Rodriguez, Niles, piloted the second plane and his passenger, student, and plane owner was Peter DeTrant, Newark.

The landing field at Pillsbury Lake, 30 miles north of Clear Lake, is located right on the edge of the water and the sportsmen climbed from the planes into the waiting boats without a moment's delay.

The group left here at 6 a.m. and had their fishing lines in the water shortly after 7 a.m. They returned to the field here about 5:15 p.m.

"We had a wonderful time with some of the boys bagging trout that ran 16 inches in length," Hubbard said, "in fact they're all anxious to go again."

MRS. MAY BOWERS INJURED IN FALL

Mrs. May Bowers, 70, Niles, received serious injuries early Monday morning when she fell as she was getting out of her automobile at a Hayward service station.

Taken to the Fairmont Hospital, she was found to be suffering from a fractured hip and leg and hand injury. Her condition was reported by the hospital as "fair."

BEGIN WORK ON CENTERVILLE POST OFFICE BUILDING

Workmen began Tuesday to clear the lot next to the fire station on Main street in Centerville in preparation for the erection of the new Centerville post office.

The building is to be erected by Allan E. Walton, Centerville druggist, who was notified last month that the Assistant Postmaster General had accepted his bid to furnish a new building to house the post office.

According to the contract, the new building will have 1,800 square feet of floor space and must be ready for occupancy by October 1.

The post office, when housed in its new quarters, will be completely furnished with new equipment, according to Postmaster Manuel Lewis. Lewis also stated that the second class post office has outgrown its space in the Anderson building where it has been located for the past 25 years. He added that the specifications for the new building also include additional lock boxes and lobby space.

Walton had originally intended to erect an adjoining business house but was unable to complete arrangements in time to meet the October 1 deadline for the government tenants.

NILES CHAMBER TO FETE FIREMEN

The Niles Chamber of Commerce voted at its luncheon meeting Tuesday to sponsor a barbecue honoring the members of the Niles Fire Department and Fire Commission.

The invitation was extended to the group Wednesday evening at the meeting of the commission and the date of July 24 was selected for the affair.

According to present plans the barbecue will be held in the basement room at Solon's with all the members of the fire-fighting unit as honored guests.

LEGION TO FETE BASEBALL TEAM

The members of the Washington Township Junior American Legion baseball team will be the guests of the sponsoring organizations, Washington Township American Legion Post No. 195; William T. Humphrey's Post, Oakland; and Joe Adams, Centerville Ford dealer, at a party to be held in the Memorial Building at Niles the evening of July 9.

Irving Hird, coach of the local team, will give a resume of the season. It is also expected, according to Commander LeRoy Brown, that two professional ball-players from Oakland will be present to address the group.

Brown also stated that Roger Halliday, who just returned from attending Boys' State under the auspices of the Legion, will give a report on the activities during his week's attendance.

STEEL MILL FORMS
SOFTBALL TEAM

A new softball team was formed in Washington Township this week with the announcement that a group of employees of the Pacific States Steel Corporation at Niles have been molded into a team and are now ready for any and all competition.

Playing under the management of Frank Carcot the steel boys won their opening encounter Monday, 12 to 7, in a game played against the Frick team on the Niles Grammar School diamond.

The team is not a member of the Washington Township Softball Association and has many open dates which may be scheduled by contacting Carcot.

NEW TYPE TRACTOR
NOW ON DISPLAY

A new general-purpose tractor designed primarily for small farms is now being shown at the Peterson Tractor Store in Hayward. A display announcement of the new tractor appears elsewhere in this issue.

The tractor being shown is one of the first to come off the assembly line of the new ten-million dollar John Deere tractor factory recently completed at Dubuque, Iowa. "This is the new tractor John Deere engineers have been developing and testing all through the war years," says Mr. Peterson. "It offers many of the time-proved features of previous John Deere small-farm tractors plus new power, new ease of handling, more comfort for the operator, and a complete line of new working tools that are easier to attach and detach, and easier to control farmers, vegetable growers, and from the tractor seat."

This tractor is sure to interest orchardists with smaller acreages, and it also meets the needs on larger farms as auxiliary power to help out in cultivating and haying time and to do many of the lighter jobs.

Mr. Peterson, the local John Deere dealer, invites you all to drop in and inspect this latest addition to the full line of John Deere two-cylinder tractors.

JUNIOR LEGION
SEASON CLOSES

The Washington Township Junior American Legion baseball team lost two diamond encounters last week-end, winding up the 11-game season in the cellar position.

Coach Irving Hird's boys were plagued with "erroritis" during the last half of the season, committing more errors than they were able to overcome with hits. In the seven games played they were able to win but one victory, that being over Livermore. Four of their scheduled games were cancelled when their opponents failed to appear for the encounter.

Last Saturday the locals were hosts to the Alameda nine and were outpointed by a score of 6 to 13. Irving Alameda and Bramwell, who shared the mound duties for the Washington nine were rapped for a total of 17 hits while their teammates committed 11 errors in the field.

The final game of the season was played with Albany Sunday with the township nine coming out on the small end of an 8 to 2 score.

NILES FOUNTAIN

The Niles Fountain, which has been closed for the past two weeks, was reopened Tuesday under the management of Morrison Green and Hortense Avilla.

They have announced that they will be open from 9 a.m. until 11 p.m. each day except Wednesday and will serve short orders, light lunches and feature shoe string potatoes and complete fountain service.

Green served during the war with the Army Transport Service and since his discharge in 1945 has been employed in Niles as a carpenter. Bea Schelbert of Centerville will assist as a waitress.

The average per capital consumption of cheese in the United States in 1946 was seven pounds.

California cement production during 1946 totaled 19,546,336 barrels, valued at $32,403,801.

YOU CAN START CANNING NOW!

There's hardly a day during the growing season of the year when you can't find something to put up for winter use. Fresh vegetables and fruits are on the way to market. It pays to keep a supply of your favorite jars, caps, lids and rubbers on hand. Then you'll always have them when they're needed. Remember to select clean, sound, fully ripe fruits and young, tender, garden-fresh vegetables. Your canned product can be no better than your raw one! Can the fruits and vegetables as soon as you get them into the kitchen in order to preserve their fresh flavors. It's best to wash and can only a small amount, the amount your canner will hold, at a time. Examine all your jars for nicks which prevent perfect seals. Always use new rubber rings. And do the job right, according to manufacturer's instructions! It's the economical way, and how you'll enjoy the results!

NEVADA COUNTY FISHING

Fishing was first rate last week in the lakes and streams of Nevada county. Anglers took large trout from Lake Spaulding by trolling, from Lake Alpine by both trolling and bait, and took many good catches from Culbertson, Lindsay, Carr, Feeley and Fuller lakes. They found the streams throughout this region in excellent condition for fly fishing.

FISHING ON TULE RIVER

Fishing on the Tule river, Tulare county, was very good last week. Many fish averaging around seven inches were taken and some sizeable catches were made at the forking of the river near Camp Nelson.

ANGLERS BREAK RECORDS

Salmon anglers fishing from barges last week in the waters off Santa Cruz county, established new records in numbers of fish taken. Barge operators reported that the number of fish taken was unusually high and that large king salmon were being caught with almost any kind of bait and any kind of equipment—from hand line to expensive rod and reel.

FISHING IN DUNCAN CREEK

Fly fishing in Duncan creek, Placer county, was excellent last week. Almost all fishermen checked in the Robertson Flat area had limits in the creels.

If circumstances permit, more than 200 head of antelope will be trapped next fall by the Bureau of Game Conservation, Division of Fish and Game, on the Sheldon National Refuge in Nevada, and will be transplanted in the Adobe Streams in Siskiyou county should be at their best for fishing by this week-end. About the only thing that can spoil this prospect is an unexpected downpour of rain.

FIRE DESTROYS GRAIN FIELDS

Niles and Decoto fire companies, aided by three fire fighting units of Alameda county, battled a grass fire atop the hills between Niles and the Masonic Home for three hours last Thursday.

The first started in a grain field on the bay side of the hill and, whipped by the wind, quickly swept over the crest of the hill and down the opposite side, burning a strip one mile wide and three and one-half miles long.

Fire Chief Clarence Crane reported that the blaze is believed to have started from a tractor which was being used in the grain field to assemble the shocks of grain.

The Christensens have lived in Centerville for six years. Mr. Christensen is in charge of one of the plants at the Leslie Salt Company.

Rogers Attend San Juan Sesqui

Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers of Niles returned Monday morning from San Juan where they spent the week-end attending the sesquicentennial celebration of Mission San Juan Bautista. They reported having a wonderful time but stated that the celebration was not as spectacular or large as the Mission San Jose observance. The San Juan celebration opened with a dance Saturday evening and the events Sunday included a rodeo, chicken barbecue, parade and a mass in the restored church at the mission. The celebration also included the dedication of a new rodeo arena, named to honor the youths of that district who lost their lives in World War II.

ANOTHER LADIES' NIGHT HAS COME AND GONE AND MEMORIES—ALL GOOD—LINGER

The Niles Rotary Club's Annual Ladies' Night held at the International Kitchen Saturday evening has come and gone and people are still talking about it—and, you may be assured, the talk is all good. Nothing happened to mar the evening. Cocktails were followed by dinner, dinner was followed by dancing, and the whole was mingled with good conversation and laughter. Nothing hilarious, nothing too exciting—but fun!

Does the party sound dull? Not a bit of it. When those who attended said, "I had a wonderful time!" you can be sure they meant it.

The party started off in a spirit of good fellowship when Dr. Tom Wilson, master of ceremonies, summoned the crowd from the cocktails and elaborate assortment of hors d'oeuvres to sit down at the several banquet tables where a superb roast beef dinner awaited them.

All through the dinner, the guests were amused and entertained by ad lib speeches that flew across the tables from and to Doc Wilson. This good-natured banter was interspersed with the levying of fines for innocent offenses of which the criminals were quite unaware. This was followed by the auctioning off of surprise packages. The biggest surprise of all, perhaps, was the one for which Rotarian George Bonde bid five dollars!

Other highlights during the dinner was the speech of retiring president E. D. Bristow and the inaugural speech of the new president, Dick Jolly. To Dick also was awarded the mammoth loving cup for being the "man of the year."

Rotarians who had invited guests were then asked to introduce them. Among those present were Supervisor and Mrs. Chester C. Stanley and County Surveyor Wallace Boggs and Mrs. Boggs, who were all guests of Joe Gomes.

Then came Bill Rice and his seven-piece orchestra, a musical aggregation of which Peggy Crane can be justly proud. Bill is her nephew, you know, and plays the kind of piano you always are hoping to hear in a dance band and so seldom do.

Closing impressions... My vote for the happiest married couple there: Virg and Mrs. Young, who recently celebrated their twenty-fifth anniversary... Johnny and Edna Berchem dancing as though they had done a lot of it together... Mrs. Maren Dawson, most modish woman present with hat of definite Frenchy air... Kenneth Henry and wife on their way right after dinner. They must have had a fishing date the next morning... John Brahmst having fun but looking as though he missed Martha, who is vacationing in the east... Mrs. Mildred Wilder "sitting it out" but not from lack of invitations... Ethel Grau with a nice tan she must have acquired on her recent sketching trip in

Garden Wedding At Harrold Home

The gardens at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Harrold in Decoto provided the setting for the lovely all-white wedding of their daughter, Rosalie, when she became the bride last Sunday of Mr. Thys Risellada of The Hague, Holland.

The bride was attired in the wedding gown of her mother. Her attendants included her sisters, Eleanor, who was the maid of honor; Mrs. William Wolverton and Mary; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Herbert Harrold Jr.; and a friend, Miss Katherine West. The attendants were all in white embroidered batiste.

An electric organ furnished the music for the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. W. J. Atwood of Berkeley.

Mr. E. J. G. Toxopeus of Holland did best man honors. Others in the wedding entourage included Mr. Keith Whipple, Mr. Dick Milligan, Mr. Edze Wieringa, Mr. Piet van der Pas, Mr. Herbert Harrold Jr., Mr. William Wolverton and Mr. James White.

Following a reception held at the Harrold home, the newlyweds left on a honeymoon to the Sierras. They plan to leave for Holland in September to make their permanent home.

The bride is a graduate of Washington Union High School and of the University of California. Mr. Risellada, connected with the Shell Oil Company, attended schools and university in Europe. This was the second wedding in the Harrold family within a month, as Mr. Herbert Harrold Jr. was married last month to the former Betty Nutt of Berkeley.

Her husband, Dr. Howard Buschke, is with the dental corps in Japan, but remembered the occasion by sending his wife a dozen red roses. He has been in Japan since November.

This time the guests will be coming from a much farther distance, Connecticut. They are Mr. O'Neill's brothers, Father George O'Neill and Father Francis O'Neill, who will arrive here by plane this Sunday.

The two, who have traveled extensively in the eastern part of the United States as well as in Europe, are looking forward to visiting here as they have never before been to California. They plan to remain a week.

A WESTERNER IN WASHINGTON

By ALLEN DRURY

THE SQUIRREL-CAGE

In the high-ceilinged, beautiful Caucus Room of the Senate Office Building where so many historic hearings have been held, the Joint Congressional Committee on the President's Report is meeting these days to study the economic condition of the country.

The hearings got off to a stately start with the testimony of C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors; a year ago hearings on economic matters quite often began with the testimony of Philip Murray, president of the CIO. Things have changed, now, and the new priority for witnesses is only one of many indications.

Mr. Wilson's mimeographed statement ran to 15 pages, but it is not too unfair to boil it down to one sentence: get the government out of this and let us do business as we please. Flowing from that result, if it could be achieved, Mr. Wilson pictured a continuing prosperity and an almost positive certainty that there will be no new depression. The government, he said, might collect statistics and make them available to industry; aside from that, the government could keep hands off.

A couple of days later, when the CIO appeared on the stand in the person of President Emil Rieve of the Textile Workers Union of America, the committee heard the other side.

The CIO, Mr. Rieve said, favors immediate establishment of a federal board to investigate rising prices; possible re-establishment of price control and rationing if prices continue to go up, a revised corporate tax structure, an increase in the minimum wage, increased social security benefits, a national health insurance program, federal aid to education, soil conservation, an all-out attack on industrial monopoly, an over-all farm program, river valley authorities, and an expanded public housing program.

This after Mr. Wilson had declared:

"Government can help, not by going into competition with its citizens nor by attempting to regulate production, wages and prices, but by legislation which fosters free competition in both business and labor. The peaks and valleys of the business cycle can be importantly influenced and leveled out by sound fiscal policies on the part of the government. Government policies should not promote inflation and needless taxes must not be collected from the people."

Mr. Wilson, in other words, was talking words. Mr. Rieve, whether one agreed with his objectives or not, was talking specific proposals. It is a commentary on the current mood of the country and the Congress that Mr. Wilson's words undoubtedly carry far more weight with his fellow citizens right now than do Mr. Rieve's specific proposals.

Possibly it is this which lends a certain air of unreality to the hearings going on in the Senate caucus room. Off there at the back of the mind somewhere the little nagging facts keep whispering: prices going higher and higher, corporate profits at the greatest level in history, the cost of living soaring into the stratosphere, the great bubble growing larger and larger.

They refuse to be completely silenced by the soothing words of comfortable, wealthy, well-fed men telling America that if she will just have faith everything will work out all right—assuring her, in one of those ironic twists of history, that the only thing she has to fear is fear itself.

Maybe this is all right. Maybe Mr. Wilson has the answers, maybe Mr. Rieve does not. And yet

DOG OWNERS ARE GIVEN WARNING

Owners of dogs in the unincorporated area of Alameda County who have failed to secure licenses for their animals are subject to court citation.

In addition, the penalty for failing to comply with the county ordinance requiring dog owners to secure a license is double the cost of the license in the first instance. Already dog owners have been hauled into court and found guilty for failure to comply with the law. County officials urge that to avoid any conflict with the law all dog owners take steps to secure their licenses without further delay.

Licenses may be secured from the office of the county clerk or from the official representative of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

ST. JUDE INSTITUTE FETES FOUR BRIDES

Members of St. Jude's Institute, Y.L.I., Irvington, who became brides during the past year were feted at the meeting of the group held last Thursday evening.

The four brides honored were Norma Jean Freitas, June Lewis, Mabel Gomes and Lorraine Zyzbenski, and each received a lovely gift from the institute.

At the regular business meeting, which was presided over by President Irene Harvey, plans for the forthcoming installation of officers were discussed. The installation ceremonies will be held Tuesday evening, July 8.

Also discussed were plans for another barn dance. The institute sponsored its first such affair on June 21 and it was such a success that it has been decided to sponsor another dance in the near future.

It was also voted to hold the annual picnic Wednesday evening, July 16, at Alum Rock Park with the husbands of the members as guests.

The lava plateau of the northeastern part of California comprise about 5.1 per cent of the area of the state.

It is hard not to wonder. It is hard not to believe that we are once more back on the same old wheel in the same old squirrel-cage, going around and around at an ever faster pace.

It is hard not to believe that one of these days, unless we are supremely lucky, we will once more fall off with a great, big bang.

MEETS "FRIEND" IN NEW ENGLAND

Enjoying a scenic trip through one of the New England states recently, Roland Bendel of Decoto was impressed by the cleanliness of the streets and sidewalks of the little rural towns.

At one bus stop a fellow passenger marred the appearance of the spotless street by tossing out a large paper sack and chunks of orange peel.

Bendel was perturbed but held his tongue and when the bus again got underway he maneuvered his way into an adjoining seat and struck up a conversation for the purpose of determining just what part of the country such a slovenly fellow represented.

"Enjoying your trip?" Bendel asked as a conversational wedge.

"Yup," the stranger grunted between bites of an orange. "What part of the country are you from?" Bendel queried.

"Sacramento, California," came back the jolting conclusion to the conversation.

Fourth of July

The spirit that brought the Fourth of July into being as our greatest national holiday is ever new. We must keep it new in our hearts if we are to protect and preserve the great vision that was voiced in the Declaration of Independence that "all men are created equal" and "are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness."

Although 171 years have passed since the Continental Congress in Philadelphia sounded the keynote of freedom, the world still struggles to realize that freedom. In the past three decades we have fought in two wars to prevent encroachment on our liberties and to break the shackles with which tyranny has bound men.

But the shackles have not been banished. They continue to be applied in many countries—often by the "liberators" of those countries. Even in America, minorities are still shackled by prejudice, hate and discrimination.

All this is a reminder that freedom is not a condition which is easily established among men, or that automatically perpetuates itself once it has been established. Freedom must be constantly cultivated in the individual and national consciousness. It must be guarded from the inroads of intolerance, injustice and inhumanity.

Only as this is done can the American people fulfill their obligations both to the men who founded and fought for our nation, and to the generations yet unborn.

Accent on Youth

In the recent war a remarkable number of young men attained high rank, especially in the Army. Several under 30 became generals, and many not yet old enough to vote reached the rank of major and even higher. Even General Eisenhower who bossed the big show in Europe was a comparatively young man for the assignment he handled.

Back of this emphasis on youth is the recognition that young men are not bound by tradition, are imaginative and daring. The victory gained was greatly hastened by the ideas and achievements of our young men.

This trend toward placing greater responsibilities on youth has been developing over the years. In business, industry, art, education, politics—in almost every field of endeavor young men and women have been taking the lead.

The failure of older men to meet problems of long standing in many fields has caused the world to look hopefully to its young men to solve them. It is said that youth will be served, but today it is more accurate to say that youth will serve—is serving the world to a greater extent than ever before.

PHILIPPINES

people of this country. While the war was perhaps one of the shortest on record, it was a definite victory and gave the United States the opportunity to do something constructive for the Filipinos.

RECALLS WAR

I want to call your attention to the fact that the first American troops to set sail for the Philippines in 1898 was the 1st United States California Infantry, composed of volunteers from this great state. The Californians played an important part in winning the war against Spain. Then Dewey's victory at Manila Bay. The outstanding bravery of Richmond Pierson Hobson in battling the Spanish fleet in Havana harbor.

Military government was established by President McKinley and continued as such until William Howard Taft was named the first civil governor of the Philippines. In the meantime some of the natives, as you well know, were not content with American leadership and under the leadership of Aguinaldo declared war against the United States in 1899. With the capture of Aguinaldo by General Fred Funston of the United States army the insurrection ended.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH?

Again this great state of California came into prominence when a graduate of the University of California, David P. Barrows, was named first director of education for the Philippines, and the government dispatched 1,000 American school teachers to help establish the department of education. That this was a wise move has been proven on so many occasions as the Filipinos were quick to learn and anxious for higher education. Many of the natives who acquired their early training in the schools established by the Americans came to the United States to complete their college education and many went to Europe, studying at outstanding universities. Likewise the Filipino appreciated his religion and affiliated with churches of both the Catholic and Protestant faith.

NAMED AFTER KING PHILIP
The army trained by the American officers that afforded protection to the natives of the islands consisted of the Philippine Scouts and the Philippine Constabulary. Many of you have either heard the famous constabulary band play or have been told of its outstanding ability as a musical organization. Organized and directed for many years by Major Loving, this band played at the inauguration of William Howard Taft as President of the United States. In later years the Philippine Army was trained and organized by General Douglas MacArthur, former chief of staff of the United States Army.

From the time of the Spanish-American War until the present time the Filipino has come into his own. Today more than 98 per cent of the civil service jobs in the government of the Philippines are held by Filipinos. Named after King Philip of Spain, the Island acquired the name of Philippines. Although there are some 7,083 islands in the group, we are familiar with the larger and more important ones such as Luzon, Mindanao, Panay, Cebu, etc. The principal city of Manila today is recognized as one of the show places of the world.

TRIBUTE TO SOLDIERS
When Japan struck at the Philippines and gained possession of Corregidor, the Filipino soldier proved his worth and performed a fine job. Fighting alongside the American soldier, the Filipino did his share in combating the Japanese. During the Bataan Death March the Filipino showed his loyalty and patriotism by not disclosing any military secrets to the Japs. Thus the cause of freedom was instilled in the Filipino as taught him from the time that Rizal, through his courageous leadership, fought the tyranny of the Spanish government. Leaders of the Filipinos were in many cases trained at West Point or had received their military knowledge through American officers.

Today we jointly celebrate an outstanding day of the year, July Fourth. A day that meant independence for the United States of America and a day that commemorates the first anniversary of the organization or birth of the Philippine Republic.

Names of such valiant leaders and qualified diplomats as the late Manuel Quezon today hold prominent places in history and will continue to do so.

Mention must be made of Sergio Osuna and of course the outstanding leadership of General Carlos Romulo, the Filipino delegate to the United Nations.

Your very able Ambassador to the United States, Joaquin M. Elizalde, had the honor of formerly having served as Resident Commissioner to this country. He possesses those intricate qualifications so necessary for a man in such a high position and occupying a post in a city second to none, Washington, D. C., the center of all that stands for real independence and a city so well loved by all Filipinos.

Happily we greet your official governmental representative, Hon. Roberto Regala, whose headquarters are in San Francisco where he holds the exalted position of Consul General for the Philippine Republic.

OFFICERS HONORED

We salute your President, Hon. Manuel Roxas, who like our own President, Harry Truman, is a leader of a nation and a group of understanding people who seek further guidance and help in maintaining peace and the escape from further wars.

Locally, I want to extend personal salutations to your able President of the Filipino Community, Mr. Alex Biete. He is assisted by a group of hard working people and endeavoring to live up to the principles of freedom, justice and democracy. Working with him is Mrs. Felix Diago.

And I want to call to your attention the fact that right here in Alvarado was established the first county seat of Alameda County, a governmental agency that I today am proud to serve as a member of the Board of Supervisors.

Within a stone's throw of where I am standing was organized a Troop of Cavalry known as the California One Hundred, captained by one of my predecessors, who resigned as supervisor to fight for the Union against the Confederacy. Today he lies in a hero's grave not far from where he fell mortally wounded in battle.

It is the spirit of freedom and independence that permeated the leaders of the Philippine Islands and the same spirit of our leaders who made it possible for the signing of the Declaration of Independence that makes it possible for all of us to be here today.

Thinking Things Over...
By VIVIAN BATMAN

One of our readers who dined at Dinah's Shack in Palo Alto has a peeve she would like to air in the paper.

"Always before," complained our perturbed reader, "the price of the entire included the hors d'oeuvres. Can you imagine our surprise, then, upon receiving the check to see $1.10 added to the regular dinner price, and 15 cents added for coffee (per person!) and 35 cents for dessert?"

"Upon querying the hostess," went on our mad-as-a-hornet reader, "we learned that we had been 'taken' (to the tune of $1.10) for the hors d'oeuvres which we had so happily selected from the table. Why," she went on vehemently, "by the time we got out of there our dinner had cost us almost $4 a piece. It wasn't the price so much," she said sadly, "it was the fact that we weren't warned about it!"

Afraid that the lady was going to become apoplectic about it—and I don't blame her—I said in an attempt to soothe her nerves and to work up her appetite again, which I was afraid she had lost on account of all that money for a couple of anchovies and a cracker and olive or two, "Now let me tell you of another place on the 'deep peninsula' (as they say in the society columns of the city papers). Have you heard about Remar Oaks in Atherton?"

No, the lady hadn't heard about it—or at least hadn't been there. I told her about the luscious roast beef (at least two inches thick) which I had recently consumed there, and about the four-inch thick steaks, and about the perfectly luscious strawberry shortcake that was floating in whipped cream, and—

Well, excuse me, will you? It's only 10 a.m., but I think I'll go out for lunch.

ANOTHER PEEVE
Another one of our readers had a peeve this week. She came into the office and said breathlessly,

Assistance to Farm Worker

The folders illustrated above are available at the Farm Labor office, 917 C Street, in Hayward

"Have you got time to take a little ride with me?"

Being completely mystified, and of a curious (one might even say, nosy) nature, I said, "Of course," and followed her out like a lamb.

The ride was short. It was only as far as the Niles Scout House.

The lady jammed on the brakes with such energy that I narrowly escaped a collision with the windshield.

"There!" she said, her eyes snapping with indignation.

I slunk into the corner of the car, feeling somehow that I must have done something—something unforgivable. I even considered apologizing, though I wasn't sure what I could be apologizing for.

"Look," she said, getting out of the car and slamming the door behind her. "Just look at this place. It's a disgrace. Now if I were a Boy Scout—and she kicked vigorously at a pile of loose papers.

(Now remember, Scouts, I'm not saying a thing. I'm just repeating this interesting little episode, thinking that you no doubt like to keep informed.)

AFTER ALL, IT'S NEWS!
If any of you readers want to know why we don't have the news of all the weddings in the township, let me tell you of my experience this week which is typical:

I call somebody for news. "Have you heard of the wedding Sunday?" she says.

"No, I haven't," I say, with interest. "Who got married?"

The lady isn't sure but she gives me a good lead. I call the "lead."

She is very obliging. "No, I don't know what their names are, but it was a beautiful wedding. But if you call—" and she gives me another lead.

Fine! Now I know there was a wedding, and it was beautiful. So I call lead number three. She isn't home but her daughter suggests I call the priest, who couldn't, of course, give me the details but he could probably tell me the names.

I call the priest. His housekeeper tells me he has already sent the marriage licenses in, so he wouldn't know the correct names, but she suggests I call lead number four who decorated the church, and very lovely the decorations were, too.

Good! I have three facts now: (1) there was a wedding, (2) it was beautiful, (3) the church was beautifully decorated.

I call lead number four who decorated the church. She is deeply concerned, and I feel she understands my problem. And she gives me one more fact—the organist's name!

Ah, at last I am getting some place. As a matter of fact, now I have everything except the names of the people who were married. Of course, I could write the story anyhow, but people are queer—when they read a story about a wedding they have a morbid curiosity, such as wanting to know the names of the bride and bridegroom—

For my sake, for the sake of all of your friends who don't want to be pestered by my calls, and for goodness sake, will you who are about to be wed please, PLEASE give us the information about your wedding?
